Back in Africa

Dear friends and family,

Aswan Egypt

I just got off Lake Nasser and am back in Aswan. In one word - EPIC! This trip was one of the finest fishing trips of my life - that does say something!

As usual I don't have much time. We begin our long ass journey home tomorrow with an overnight in Cairo. Then following the sun for a 30 hour trip back to SLC and then a late night drive back to Victor.

Once I'm settled in expect the full report. For you Jacksonites, I will be at the shop

Sat morning, likely a bit jet lagged but ready to tell some stories.

Once again though, this trip was absolutely unbelievable - 5 new species on the fly, a 40lb Nile perch on the 9wt and at least one 10lb fish a day off the bank on streamers.

That's it for now. I will likely head back here next year or a 2008 with cool dudes only, if your interested let me know as there isn't room for too many.

Be cool,

JEFF
